President trump*:

Re: Meals on Wheels

Your new proposed budget picks on Meals on Wheels, a community-based program that helps individuals who are confined to their home, to get nutritious food delivered to them...yes, free, 'at a loss'.

And you want to cut this program, an entire, established, working network across the country that, full disclosure, does not have a profit motive and loses money, big-league, because it provides free services. It only provides good deeds; not a profit.

You show your character here, trumpie*. You're a grumpie, that's it. You got the power to step on the elderly and infirm, so you do. So you can be a big league player. You're an unhappy, lonely man.

You're a small person, trumpie*, with small hands, small heart and small ideals, small whatever. You always point to someone else but who brings on this unseemly character of yours? It's you yourself. And it doesn't play well.

I prefer the grace, intelligence and dignity of President Obama, not your infantile, vindictive actions.

Russia is coming.
