President Trump:

Re: Global Gag Executive Order

Once again, you and your right-wing male buddies saw fit to hold back family-planning information that is essential for women to make informed decisions.

You guys always say you want to make government less intrusive but here you are sticking your government nose into women's reproductive rights. Women around the world were helped with this assistance, making decisions that build healthy families and enlarging opportunities.

Yet your religious "friends" have to impose their ideals on others. You enslave women. Sad.
