President Trump:

Re: Voiding of American Visas

Valid American visas are issued by the US Government, not by President Obama. Their promise is sacrosanct - and if broken, erode the integrity of America's government promise within the documents are issued.

How can you justify the revocation of a valid US-government issued visa, while the visitor is "in the air".

You have tarnished the full faith and trust in the USA around the world. Our standing is lower.
