Re: Your White House Guests

I would not want the Philippines' President Duterte in my house - nor do I want him visiting the White House. It's bad enough that we have you as host but it's more insulting that you invite such a common thug and murderer to sit at America's table.

You and he are certainly of the same ilk. You will have much in common to discuss.

I resent your continued stain on American 'exceptionalism' - you are out of your big league. You do not - and cannot - represent me.
